SALVAGE COLLECTIONS

ACTING VICE-CHAIRMAN SPENCER SUGGESTS PURCHASE OF TRUCK

Acting Vice-Chairman Spencer, of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter, has been thinking hard about efficiency and improvement in the collection of salvage, which has been one of the hardest jobs of the Junior Red Cross service because it came in "drives" and was so strenuous while it lasted. Also because the drives came on Saturday, always a difficult time for extra service. Mr. Rowley, who has been doing such excellent work in this department, has also been thinking along the same line and when they met each discovered that the other had arrived at the same solution, which was another demonstration that "great minds move," etc.

Their separately evolved but united idea is that the importance of this department warrants the purchase of an auto truck which can be kept on the street all the time making continuous collections. Then the salvage workers will not be swamped by having tons of salvage hurled upon them Saturday in the afternoon and the public which has salvage to donate will be better served. Also, the truck being more commodious will carry larger loads and, in the case of paper collections ,can be accompanied by workers who will make the papers into bundles as they travel along, so they can be packed away in an orderly manner when the warehouse is reached. Other salvage can be assorted in the same way en route.

Mr. Spencer and other members of the salvage committee feel it is an imposition for the Red Cross to be continually asking citizens to loan their private cars for the trucking business of carting dusty salvage, and that it would be easy to raise a fund for the purchase of a second-hand truck, needed by the organization any way. All last year it was indebted to John Todd for the cartage of its shipments to Los Angeles and though he patriotically donated the service at bare cost, there is no good reason why a willing horse should be worked to death. With a truck as working equipment, the salvage collections, they say, can be organized with workers assigned for each day in the week, the field will be systematically covered and nobody will be overworked. The main thing appears to be getting the truck and that should be easy.

SCOUT BOYS' OUTING

The boys composing Troop 2 Glendale Boy Scouts, under Scoutmaster R. L. McCourt, accompanied by John Robert White, Jr., secretary of the Scout Committee, enjoyed a fine outing at Brookside Park Thursday evening. About 18 members turned out and were taken in Mr. White's and Mr. McCourt's machines to the park, where a picnic lunch was enjoyed. The evening was spent in taking the various tests prescribed by the scouts, in which a number of the boys made good records. Swimming in the beautiful pool followed, the party returning to Glendale about 9:15, tired but happy.

GIFT TO HARVEST FESTIVAL

Mr. Webb, of Webb's Dry Goods Store, has donated a beautiful gingham dress pattern which is being made up in the advanced 1919 mode by Mrs. Carrie Waite, who is in charge of the Dressmaking Service Department of the Glendale Red Cross. This dress will be sold at the harvest festival September 20th and 21st.

CHILD HURT

REV. B. C. CORY'S LITTLE GRANDSON FALLS FROM SECOND STORY WINDOW

The past two days have been an anxious time at the parsonage of the Tropico Methodist Church, where little Richard Park, grandson of Pastor B. C. Cory, nearly lost his life. Wednesday about noon, when he and his little brother were playing in a room on the second story, they succeeded in unfastening the screen and the little fellow, who is but two and a half years old, fell to the cement walk below, striking on his head and fracturing his skull. He was unconscious when picked up and Dr. H. R. Boyer was called, who took him to Thornycroft hospital for an X-ray examination. By Thursday afternoon he was restored to complete consciousness and the doctor prophesies that he will recover without suffering permanent injury. He is of course being kept very quiet. His mother, Mrs. Park, is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Cory whose home is in Calexico. She has been spending the summer here.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

CAPITAL ISSUES COMMITTEE DISCOURAGES SALE OF IMPROVEMENT BONDS

The Board assembled at 8:30 p. m., all members present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The hour having arrived for the opening of bids for the issue of $44,000 bonds for Municipal District Number One, the following bid, being the only one received, was opened, read and publicly declared. This was the bid of Wm. R. Staats and Co. of Los Angeles, accompanied by a certified check for $2200, offering to pay par, accrued interest and a premium of $53.50 for the issue. On motion of Trustee Henry, seconded by Trustee Shaw, the bid was accepted.

The matter of the petition for the opening and widening of Broadway west of Central avenue, laid over from the last meeting, was taken up. There were a number of residents and property owners on West Broadway present and J. S. Thompson and others addressed the Board in opposition to the project. Mr. Thompson called attention to the report of the City Engineer on the frontage represented on the petition, stating that it is signed by only five of the residents of the street between Central avenue and Pacific avenue. A petition had been circulated during the past week against the proposition, which he now presented. This petition was signed by J. S. Thompson and about 35 other property owners along the street west of Central avenue. On motion of Trustee Shaw, it was ordered that the petition for the opening and widening of Broadway west of Central avenue be denied.

A communication was read from the Capital Issues Committee, Washington, D. C., to the effect that in reference to the issue of bonds for the improvement of (East) Broadway, the committee has determined that "the sale or subscription thereof at this time, is not compatible with the national interest."

On motion, the matter was referred to the City Attorney to report to the Board as to whether under the circumstances the Board retains jurisdiction.

Communications were read from the California State Board of Health and the League of California Municipalities calling attention to the forthcoming convention of the last-named body at Riverside October 15-18 next, urging that the city be well represented on that occasion.

The Los Angeles and Arizona Land Co., by John R. Pirtle, Secretary, petitioned the Board in a written communication, to abandon Avenue "A" in Tract 2292, running from the east side of Canada boulevard to the west side of Verdugo road. On motion of Trustee Shaw the communication was referred to the City Engineer to report as to the advisability of granting the request.

A communication was read from County Counsel Hill, accompanied by copy of a resolution which it was desired the city should adopt, embodying a stipulation on the part of the city in regard to a case now pending in which the County of Los Angeles is plaintiff and the City of Alhambra,

QUICK REAL ESTATE DEAL

For some time the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, the owners of the pretty house and yard at the southwest corner of Third and Jackson streets, have known they would soon be leaving for a ranch somewhere. As the chances to sell are not considered very good under our strenuous war conditions, they withdrew their property from the market and were making preparations to rent it when an old acquaintance, J. W. Cousins, formerly of Glendale but now of Los Angeles, happened along. "Why don't you sell?" he remarked. "Why don't you buy?" they countered, and in about five minutes the transaction was completed all but drawing up the papers, and Mr. Cousins is now the owner. He expects a relative, now in the East, to make use of the property in the course of a few months, but in the meantime will lease it.

And what will became of the Hughes? They already have an alfalfa ranch picked out at Fallon, Nevada. They grew up on farms, know all about how to grow things, as their attractive yard proved, and they are crazy to get back to the soil though sorry to leave Glendale and their many friends here.

Mr. Hughes sold his Examiner route to S. A. Chase, who has been a printer for forty-five years and now wants to know something about the newspaper business on the outside. He took charge of the route September 1st, and expects to greatly enjoy his change of occupation.

HIGH LIVING

YEOMAN ELLIS E. THOMAS SAYS JACKIES ARE WELL FED BY UNCLE SAM

The following letter addressed to W. B. Kirk of this city by Ellis Thomas, a former resident of Glendale and graduate of Union High in the class of 1915, who enlisted in the Navy as a Yeoman last month, will be of interest to his many friends here. He is a son of Mrs. Sarah E. Thomas and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Keim of 1442 West Second street.

Goat Island, Cal.,
Sept. 2, 1918.

Dear Mr. Kirk:

I'm a regular sailor now and like it fine. Just got a letter from my Camp Kearny boss saying a lot more new work was coming in and any time I would come back I could have my old job for at least a year more, but I wouldn't go back if I could and I guess it's a good thing because I've got a job now that I can't leave at any time. I like the Navy better every day and am sure glad I got in when I did.

We get fine eats here. For dinner today we had fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, squash, lettuce, pumpkin pie, brick ice cream, bread and butter and coffee, also soup. Can you beat that? It's served cafeteria style and if we don't get enough the first time we go back for "seconds" or "thirds." This meal was a little out of the ordinary but not much.

I'm still in Detention Camp but expect to get out this week. They sure worked us hard the first week, but it's getting easier now. We get up at 5 a. m. and go to bed at 9 p. m.

Have had three "shots" and three vaccinations. Our arms were pretty sore for a few days, but are all right now. We have to put on clean underclothes, socks and hats every day, so you can see we keep pretty clean. One morning at inspection the officers thought that a few of our company were dirty so they made the whole company get up at 3:30 the next morning and take an ice-cold shower. I've only had one hot water bath since I've been here, but I'm getting used to the cold water now.

We were issued a good bunch of clothes. I have two suits of blues, two suits of whites, a heavy overcoat, six pairs of socks, 4 pairs of underwear, woolen jersey sweater, 3 hats, 2 pairs of shoes, shoe, clothes, hair and tooth brushes, and several other things I don't remember now. The tents have wooden floors and we sleep two in a tent.

I've got to do my daily washing so I'll have to quit for this time. Give my regards to everybody in the office. Would be glad to hear from you any time.

Sincerely,
ELLIS E. THOMAS.

U. S. Naval Training Station, San Francisco, Calif. D Camp Co. C-8.

RETURN FROM OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Scudder of 1420 West Fifth street returned last Saturday from a three months' visit in Akron, Ohio, their former home. They left there August 16th to attend the G. A. R. encampment at Portland, as Mr. Scudder is a veteran of the Civil War and Mrs. Scudder a devoted member of the Woman's Relief Corps. Not wishing to travel at night, they broke the return journey by stopping off at San Francisco and San Jose, and also at Santa Barbara. They declare that after attending sixteen G. A. R. National Encampments they are ready to pronounce this last one the best ever held by the organization. "Ohio," they say, "was looking its best. All food crops were good except potatoes. Fruit was scarce, however, many orchards having no crop at all." While they had a very pleasant summer, they are glad to get back to Glendale, which they are more convinced than ever is the garden spot of Los Angeles county.

THE SAMMIES DON'T MIND

A postal card dated August 5th is the last word Mrs. Lorena Cramer has received from her son Wallace, who is at the front with the 18th Field Artillery and is probably in the same battles in which Don Hamilton is engaged. On his card he said: "Army life is rather hard on the boys, but we don't mind as long as we can keep the dirty boches on the run." Wallace was employed at Taft before he entered the army and word has been received that Stanley Little, brother of the superintendent under whom Wallace worked, has been killed in battle.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and early tomorrow morning near the coast. Light westerly winds.

CHAIRMEN CONFER

MRS. A. L. McLEISH GIVES INSTRUCTION TO RED CROSS WORKERS

A delegation of eight representatives of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter, headed by Chairman J. H. Braly, attended the conference called by Mrs. A. L. McLeish, Director of the Bureau of Chapter Production of the Pacific Division, which was held Thursday morning at the Canteen Rooms of the Los Angeles Chapter at 936 South Main street. All who attended were considered the guests of the Canteen and were served with luncheon by the young ladies who have charge of that branch, and who prepare everything served. They are fitting themselves for service in canteens overseas.

Those present from Glendale besides Mr. Braly were Mesdames H. E. Bartlett, Helen Sadler, Archie Parker, Coral Griffith, Glenwood Jones, C. L. Bullard, and R. P. Jodon.

She made what she believed would be a surprise announcement, viz., that Gurney Newlin, the efficient Los Angeles Red Cross worker, is now a deputy in France.

Relative to the work of the chapters, Mrs. McLeish said:

"In the beginning this production work was hit and miss. These chapters are really factories and are so recognized by the Government. They save the man and woman power of the country so that labor can go to France if necessary."

Of wool stocks, she said: "There are three cuts. The first cut is entirely for the soldiers, the second cut is mostly for the soldiers, and the third cut is for civilian use. The Red Cross is now pledged to the Government not to use one inch of civilian goods because the stocks held by the government for that purpose are all manufactured specially to meet Red Cross needs and to insure uniformity of product. Also if chapters buy in the open market they trespass on the stocks reserved for civilian use, of which there is already a shortage.

She called attention to the shortage of machinery, declaring it can not be purchased in many lines unless it can be shown to the government that it will be used for war work.

She gave the comforting report that all products of the Pacific Division go direct to France and that so far everything manufactured by the Pacific Chapters has safely arrived. Another point which she emphasized was the importance of the code numbers in shipping cases. These code numbers are understood by all the Allies.

The English Tommy Wax, viz., the woman enlisted as a British soldier, who works behind the lines at all kinds of manual work to save man power for the front, was also referred to appreciatively by Mrs. McLeish.

In defense of the charge which has been made in some quarters that the chapters of the Pacific Division are not as active as those on the Atlantic, she said that when a chapter there in what is called the Potomac Division needed materials, it telegraphed

EXEMPTION BOARD PREPAREDNESS

In advance of the registration of September 12th of men between the ages of 18 and 21 and the ages of 31 and 45, the local Exemption Board has registered a number of men of this district who will not be able to be here on the 12th. Permission to make such registrations has been granted by Government officials in charge, where conditions seem to require it.

The Board has engaged two new clerks and is increasing its equipment in anticipation of the draft. A locally made filing cases to meet expected demands, which is supported on trestles occupies a conspicuous place and inspires awe by its mortuary suggestions. One observer asked if it would be equipped with silver handles. Another declared that he wouldn't be able to sleep nights if he had to work in the same room with it.

JUST IN TIME

Dr. Joseph Marple of 149 West Palmer avenue reports that his brother "Billy" is now a petty officer, Pharmacist's Mate, in an Edinburg hospital, where many soldiers wounded in battles in France are taken for recuperation. The doctor says it is a very convenient place to which to transport them and adds that the coast at that point is rocky and very like La Jolla. Billy writes that in spite of the many wounded coming over and the continuation of the war, the people are cheerful and say the Americans arrived just in time.

LEON TROTZKY

From a $12 a week job on an obscure newspaper and a cheap east side lodging house in New York to international prominence is a long jump in an ordinary man's career, but Leon Trotzky made the leap in a few months.

In the Bolsheviki movement in Russia Trotzky has been the leading catspaw of the forces behind the upheaval which drove Alexander Kerensky from power.

Trotzky is a typical revolutionist, and has been in the limelight of Russia's affairs almost ever since he returned to his native land last spring.

The United States investigated Trotzky's movements while he was in New York in 1917 but failed to get any evidence that he had been supplied with German money, but the department of justice traced a close relationship betwen Trotzky and Ludwig Lore, editor of the German Socialist paper for which Trotzky wrote editorials.

He was president of the Soldiers' and Workers' union and a moving spirit in the Revolution in Russia in 1905 and was expelled to Siberia.

He escaped, fled to Japan and afterward lived in Switzerland, then went to Berlin, where he published a Jewish Socialist paper.

When the war began he was expelled from Berlin and went to Paris where he started a Russian paper, "Our Words."

It soon became apparent that his paper was causing discontent among the Russian trops on the western front and he was ousted from France taking refuge in Barcelona, Spain.

He was jailed for a few months, when he secured his freedom and sailed for New York arriving there January 14, 1917.

He left New York for Russia May 27, last year. He was detained by the English authorities at Halifax but upon the request of Kerensky was released.

Trotzky was born in a litle Jewish colony in the province of Kerson, "Little Russia." In 1915 he was president of the first council of the workmen's delegates at Petrograd.

His real name is Leon Braunstein. Tall, broad-shouldered, gaunt, a little over forty, with blazing eyes, he is a picturesque character.

BACK TO OLD TIME CUSTOMS

How would you like to go home from the drygoods store with your new gown wrapped up in a newspaper instead of an elaborate carton, or in manila paper, milady? Always with the idea of conservation in mind, some one has suggested that the wasted newspaper now burned for want of a market shall be utilized for wrappings for merchandise, and that, as such, old newspapers when they are properly folded might have a market value of $50 per ton. If so, every Red Cross shop would instantly have a new source of revenue in the gathering and preparing of old papers for the merchants.

Wrapping paper has come to be in such demand that the market is at unheard of quotations, and the supply short. Indeed the demand for wrapping paper is one of the things that has affected the market for news print paper,—some mills that formerly made news paper are making wrapping paper.

Whether the use of old papers in this way is feasible or not only the merchant can answer. If it will be acceptable to the public, doubtless the merchant would agree to use such wrappings on some kinds of merchandise, and if all old papers could be thus used it would stop a present unconscionable waste. It is a rare household that does not receive one newspaper, and many get two or three or five. If the saving began in the homes the collections made through some agency as the Red Cross and the papers there prepared for use at no expense for labor, it would save an annual sum so great that the figures are almost beyond belief.

IN SUMPTUOUS EGYPT

Egypt, notes a correspondent, is enthusiastic for English customs. In the case of visiting cards they are leaving us far behind. I have one before me with the name in the center written in Latin and Arabic characters and the address below. In the right hand corner in gilt letters is the Spanish greeting, "Felicidades," and in the opposite corner a gilt anchor and chain wreathed with pale blue forget-me-nots. The whole card is bordered with lotuses. Another Egyptian uses quite an English card with the letters, "P. T. O." neatly printed in the lower right hand corner. On turning the card over one is advised to "Keep smiling."

THE GOLDEN AGE

Note: Written in 1858, anticipatory of our "Golden Age," as national affairs were rapidly forming into lines that led to the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860.

Have ye not heard of a Golden Age
When envious strife in ceasing,
Gave way to fellowship? When love
Should thenceforth be increasing?
Long ago when the world was young,
The prophets cue assuming,
The minstrel and the poet sung
Of a Golden Age fast coming.

A time wherein the truly men
Shall recognize each other,
Though poor and distressed, by slavery oppressed,
In every sense a brother.
When the scales shall fall from error's eyes,
When truth in its freedom roaming
Shall shed great light on error's night—
That better day is coming.

Ho, laborer, work, for each sturdy stroke
That thy brawny arm is wielding,
Will lessen the force of error's course,
And the tyrant's chains in yielding
Will then disclose how false were those
Who with arrant pride assuming,
Said wealth should rule. 'Twill not be so
In the Golden Age fast coming.

Ho, statesman, speak a work for the weak,
And suffer no infraction;
Whate'er thy fate, pray vindicate
The freedom of thought and action.
A tyrant's sway no longer obey,
Nor idly stand in summing
The gain or cost—lead on the host
That fights for the good time coming.

Ho, Christian, pray, 'twill hasten the day,
Ere now so dimly dawning;
'Twill not be long if thy faith be strong,
Ere the glorious light of morning
Shall usher in amid the din
And noise of battle humming,
That truth, not might, shall determine right
In the glorious good time coming.

Let all unite to defend the right,
Behold the host approaching;
They come along, a mighty throng,
On error's lines encroaching.
'Mid battle's shock, while continents rock,
The reins of control assuming,
Declare that right shall conquer might
In the Golden Age fast coming.

SAMUEL PARKER.

The American Red Cross Nurse means home and mother to the wounded soldier in the Base Hospital in France. He can talk to her—she can understand him and his slang. Her training gives her the opportunity, her woman's tenderness and devotion the means, of helping to keep up the morale of the Army and Navy, and bring America closer to the boys fighting and dying over there. The American boys need American nurses. Only the kindred spirit aroused by a common language can bridge the three thousand odd miles between France and the Statue of Liberty.

MAYBE THIS IS WHY YOUR LETTER WAS DELAYED

By Webb Miller
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Aug. 19. (By Mail.)—Every day tens of thousands of letters "from home" to the American soldiers in France are delayed or sent astray through lack of sufficient or correct addresses. In a large percentage of the cases, the mail is finally delivered, but after days and weeks of delay.

During the month of June, 21 per cent of mail arriving in France for the army was either insufficiently or incorrectly addressed More than 700,000 letters and thousands of sacks of paper mail were delayed in this way.

Instead of being rushed directly to their destination, these letters had to be forwarded to the central postoffice in the interior of France, where clerks went through directories of the expeditionary forces in an effort to ferret out the correct address. This task is doubly difficult because of the duplication of names in the army. For instance, there are 157 John Smiths, 105 Henry Browns, 94 James Wilsons, 52 Henry Jacksons and so on, according to statistics compiled by the postoffice department. Eighty per cent of the misaddressed June mail was merely addressed "Somewhere in France" or "A. E. F."

The postoffice department advises persons writing to soldiers in France to include in the address the regiment and company number and, if possible, the A. P. O. (Army Post Office) number. The following form of address should be used to insure quickest delivery:

Pvt. John Smith,
Co. A., 25th Regiment Infantry,
American Expeditionary Forces.
A. P. O. No. (when known).

Otherwise the mail is subject to indefinite delay, while the mail clerks are hunting for the correct address.

Advertise it, or advertise for it in the Evening News.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilman of West Seventh street have returned from a week's outing at Henley's Camp at the Sespe. They report that the fishing there is excellent.

Mrs. Lorine Linkletter of Calipatria arrived Monday evening and will be the guest for a couple of weeks of her mother, Mrs. Lorena Cramer of 553 Acacia avenue. She is accompanied by her little daughters, Dorothy and Martha.

Dr. and Mrs. Vanderhoof of 201 South Jackson returned Saturday from a month's stay at Hermosa Beach. They had a quiet, uneventful outing and enjoyed themselves, but are glad to get back to Glendale, which looks very good to them.

For a brief time there was a distracted mother at 509 West Eighth street Thursday afternoon, for Burton Lawson, a four-year-old, was missing. His full description was telephoned to the City Hall and then he was found before the officers had a chance to get busy.

According to Olin Spencer, Acting Vice-Chairman of the Glendale Red Cross, there are a number of members who have not yet renewed their subscriptions. The list is being revised in preparation for the annual meeting, October 1st, and those in arrears are asked to give the matter attention.

McLaughlin White of 719 Raleigh street, this city, goes Monday to Riverside to represent the Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Los Angeles at a convention of Title Companies to be held in that city, at which he will read a paper. He will be accompanied by Mrs. White. The convention will take place at the Mission Inn. Mr. and Mrs. White will return to Glendale Tuesday or Wednesday.

Miss Mary Blackburn of 235 Cedar street left Wednesday for Elwood, Nebraska, where she has accepted a position in the city schools. For five years she was assistant supervisor of drawing and manual training in the Glendale City schools. She goes to a similar position in Elwood. She will live with her sister, Mrs. Andrew Dow, who has frequently visited this city and made many friends here.

For the last week, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Routzahn of San Francisco have been the house guests at the Lutheran parsonage, No. 1109 West Fifth street, Glendale. While pastor of the Lutheran Church in Williamstown, Pennsylvania, Rev. Mottern had received the above friends into membership with that Church, hence they are paying him and Mrs. Mottern, this brief visit, seeing Catalina, the beaches, Pasadena, Los Angeles and things of general interest. They will return to San Francisco this Saturday morning where Mr. Routzahn has a responsible position in the S. P. freight depot, Third and Townsend.

Ernest Morgan and family had quite an auto tour during his vacation, which ended the latter part of the week and restored him to the First National Bank. They went first to Laguna, where they camped for six days. From there they drove south to San Diego and Coronado, where they camped some more and where they visited Mrs. Morgan's uncle, Stephen B. Alilng of San Diego, formerly of East Orange, N. J. Then came the homeward trail with a stop at La Jolla to visit Jordan S. Neel, who has the Ford agency there and who formerly resided here. To La Jolla they said good-bye about 10:30 a. m. and reached here in time for supper Thursday night. Unfortunnately, Eric Morgan has been quite ill since their return with an attack of bronchitis.

The Irish have opened a Y. M. C. A. hut for troops in Phoenix Park, Dublin.

BIG COMMUNITY SING

An audience which not only filled the main High School auditorium but which overflowed into the annex, gathered Thursday evening for the Community Sing led by Professor Hugo Kirchoffer. Those who had been there the first evening gave a good account of themselves and demonstrated that they had taken to heart the training Professor Kirchoffer had given them. The new recruits easily fell into line and before the evening ended were singing in a manner which brought a smile of satisfaction to their conductor's face. He finally registered his joy in a few "well-chosen remarks," in the course of which he said:

"I have never known a community chorus to get together and sing four parts as well as you people do in this short time. We are just beginning to do it in Hollywood in the last month. Now do not think you can not have community singing without the four parts. The Government wants people to get together and sing regardless of whether they can take all the parts or not, but when people like you can get together and put in the four parts, it is much better. It is just grand to stand here and hear it come over."

The repertory Thursday evening included "The Red, White and Blue," "Good Morning, Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip," "K-k-k Katie, Beautiful Katie," "Annie Laurie," "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Coming Through the Rye," "Sweet and Low," ending as usual with "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Madame Katherine Shank sang the splendid new patriotic song, "The Americans Come," written by Faith Foster. As explained in her foreword, the song is a dialogue between a blind French soldier and his son when he hears the music and cheers of the populace in welcome of the Sammies. She received an ovation and was called to the platform to repeat it. In response to the demand for an encore, she sang a composition by Walter Squires, "When You Come Home, Dear."

Following the dismissal of the audience, a business meeting of singers especially interested in establishing community singing on a permanent basis was held. Alexander Mitchell was made chairman, Mrs. L. N. Hagood, secretary, and Mr. Bode, treasurer. The chairman explained that the services of Professor Kirchoffer as leader could be secured for $15 an evening and methods of securing a fund to meet this expense were informally discussed. A committee of ways and means was then appointed, consisting of Edmond Shank, Chairman, and Blake Franklin, John Robert White, A. A. Barton and Le Roy W. Bosserman.

The woman who nearly turned in a riot call because the price of matches has advanced would probably pass away if she lived in occupied Belgium. Cotton thread is so scarce there that it is sold by the yard, meat is $3.15 a pound, sugar $1.25 and rice $2.25. Eggs are 25 cents each—and other prices in proportion. War prices and the cost of living here at home dwindle into insignificance compared with these figures which were recently received from Brussels by Col. Ernest P. Bicknell, American Red Cross Commissioner for Belgium.

Even the stress of a world war does not cause an American officer to neglect his men because they are disabled. General Pershing recently visited American Red Cross hospitals in Paris, told the men they had fought splendidly and that America was proud of them. Personal conversations with the men in many of the wards made "Black Jack" very popular and during the visit he met and greeted a number of men who had fought under him in Mexico and in the Philippines. Nurses and doctors also came in for expressions of appreciation, and Major James H. Perkins, Commissioner of the American Red Cross, who accompanied him, was asked to convey personal messages to those he could not talk to himself in his limited time.

With the establishment of the American Red Cross Military Hospital No. 7, six miles from Paris, a chain of Red Cross hospitals with beds for over 7,000 is complete. Such things make us realize why they need so many nurses at the front.

an order to Washington, and Washington would telephone the factory in Connecticut and in half an hour get the order filled, and have it on the way in three days, whereas out here chapters wait three months for supplies on account of their distance from Washington and the factories.

Strict obedience to orders was urged. When asked for ten thousand of any article, the chapter should turn out that amount, she declared, and not 9000 or 11,000, for behind every order is a good reason. Also, Red Cross workers should refrain from criticism, especially to the man in the street. If they have criticisms to make, they should go to headquarters.

As one of her last words, she spoke of chapter labels ordered by General Pershing, who has argued that while only one soldier boy in a thousand may receive an article made by his home chapter, that one would make it worth while.

By way of advance information, Mrs. McLeish reported that the Pacific Division has just received an order for sixty to seventy pairs of socks for use by soldiers in Siberia.

NINE O'CLOCK TOWN

This good comedy is booked for the Palace Grand screen tomorrow, Saturday, the 7th. Mr. Jensen says it is supposed to represent Los Angeles and that Charles Ray featured in it is pictured as a twelve o'clock fellow in a nine o'clock town. He believes it will be much enjoyed by Palace Grand patrons. It is said to be Charley Ray's best picture.

"Cleopatra" will be shown here next week at the regular prices in spite of the fact that it has been showing this week in Los Angeles at 25c to $1.50 a seat. This, like "The Great Love," seen at our local theatre Thursday, comes to Glendale immediately following its showing in Los Angeles. It pays to wait to see these big attractions at home.

SWEET SYRUP FROM WATERMELON

Mrs. A. D. Curtis of Van Nuys, Cal., has given to F. Booth, 906 West Broadway, Glendale, a formula for making an economical sweet syrup, to be published in the Glendale News for the benefit of its many readers during the scarcity of sugar. Mrs. Curtis has also given it to the U. S. Food Administrator.

Take the red inside of the watermelon, mash it up into a pulp, strain through coarse cloth, then boil from two to three hours. Skim occasionally. From two or three melons thus treated, from one to two quarts of syrup is obtained, the appearance of molasses and just as sweet. Utilize all small melons that are likely to be wasted.

MILITARY STATUS OF COLLEGE MAN

The military status of the college man in the ranks of the Students' Army Training Corps and his relation to the draft have been cleared up by a War Department decision. The student-soldier is enlisted already in the military service of the United States. Upon reaching draft age he becomes subject to registration whenever the President directs. He is then placed in class 5-D by his local board. The draft board will not include him in calls for induction as long as he remains in the S. A. T. C.

On the day the order number of the student-soldier is reached the fact is reported to the college president, to the commanding officer, and to The Adjutant General. A report upon the man's record as a student-soldier and as a scholar is put before the War Department's committee on education and special training with the recommendation that he be called at once to an officers' training camp, called to an Army camp, or permitted to complete college training by transfer to the Enlisted Reserve Corps.

Under normal conditions corn is, in nearly all parts of the United States, the cheapest poultry feed. But at times like the present oats are to be preferred. When corn is worth $1.50 a bushel, oats should be $0.75, and barley $1.20 a bushel to give the same value for the money, when fed to poultry, as corn.

U. S. CONSERVATION

To help Uncle Sam win the war and to conserve man power and gasoline, F. Booth will discontinue soliciting orders from house to house for his famous Better Blend Coffee. In future phone orders will be taken care of and all deliveries made—a cash on delivery system.

CITY TRUSTEES.

Glendale and other municipalities, defendant. On motion of Trustee Shaw, referred to City Attorney.

A request was filed by C. C. Castillo for permission to hunt on the property of Rafael Verdugo, the consent of the owner having been obtained. On motion of Trustee Henry, granted.

An application for permit to conduct "Jitney" business was filed from Floyd A. Boss. The same having the approval of the City Manager and City Marshal was on motion granted.

The Clerk reported the receipt of a letter from W. C. Wattles in reply to a request from the Board of Trustees as to Mr. Wattles' recollection of the contract made with the Southern Pacific Company for the removal of the tower at Tropico. The letter stated that as former engineer of the City of Tropico, the writer had a personal and official knowledge of the matter and in his opinion the bill presented for payment for the work done is excessive. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter was referred to the City Attorney to be taken up with other officials of the City and of the former city of Tropico and report as to the facts in the case.

The reports of the City Recorder and the Treasurer were received and filed.

At this time, opportunity was given to protestants against the proposed levy of a tax on their property for lot cleaning purposes, to be heard. There being no protestants present, and no protests having been filed, the report filed by the City Manager, showing a total tax to be levied for lot cleaning amounting to $1465.75, was approved.

The Manager of the Public Service Department reported as to break in the pump at the plant on San Fernando road, and the break in a reservoir on Glendale avenue, both of which had been repaired.

The Clerk reported the receipt of a letter from the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, stating that as requested, the tax levied by the County on Lot "A" of the Witham Tract, has been cancelled.

The Clerk reported having appointed J. W. Stauffacher, deputy City Clerk.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter of delinquent taxes collected by the County of Los Angeles for the former City of Tropico, was referred to the City Tax Collector to take up with the county authorities.

On motion of Trustee Shaw, the City Clerk was instructed to furnish the City Attorney with all necessary papers required in connection with the sale of the bonds of Municipal District Number Two.

Trustee Muhleman made a motion, which was adopted, that when the Board adjourn, it be to meet Tuesday evening next, September 10th, 1918, at 7:30 o'clock.

At 10 p. m. a committee from a "Community Singing" meeting at the High School appeared before the Board. Messrs. Alex Mitchell, John Robert White, Jr., Mr. Shank and one or two others spoke in favor of an appropriation being made by the Board for regular employment of a leader for weekly meetings for the purpose of "Community Singing." No action taken.

On motion of Trustee Henry, it was ordered that the books of the City for the year ending June 30th, 1918, be audited.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman it was ordered that the matter of the audit be referred to the Finance Committee for recommendation.

FRESH PORK TWO DAYS IN TEN

The War Department authorizes the following:

Fresh pork is now being issued to the troops in the camps and cantonments throughout the United States two days in every 10 as a temporary substitute for fresh beef. There is an abundance of fresh pork at this time, while the supply of fresh beef is not up to normal requirements. This temporary substitution will mean the saving of large quantities of beef and is expected to relieve somewhat the recent strained prices for that commodity. The action was taken on the recommendation of the Subsistence Division of the Quartermaster Corps.

KEEP ZINC AWAY FROM YOUR PRESERVES

Do not use galvanized utensils in making preserves, jellies, or fruit juices, the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture advises. Some of the zinc with which the vessels are galvanized may be changed to salts of zinc, which will give the product an acrid and astringent taste and render it unsuitable for human use. Moreover, the dissolving of this zinc coating tends to ruin the container. The use of galvanized utensils for boiling down fruit juice is especially risky.

Women who really want to go to Europe in war work should investigate the call for Nurses' Aids made by the American Red Cross. There is urgent need for this class of workers and the time of preparation is so brief that it especially appeals to those who earnestly desire to get in actual military service. The qualifications, which include first aid, elementary hygiene and home care of the sick, and 240 hours training in an accredited, hospital, can be had through your Red Cross Chapter Nursing Committee. The Red Cross asks you to investigate.

MAY POOL WORLD'S RAW MATERIALS

By Robert J. Bender
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—Construction of a great raw materials reserve by the allied nations is now under way to pave the way for a just and lasting peace.

Kaiser Wilhelm recently declared that the great crisis in the west depended upon which side mustered most quickly and adequately its reserves—but he didn't figure on raw materials.

When the war is over, the side with the reserves—gold, food, coal, iron, steel, cotton, wool and clothing—will be the power to determine the peace and happiness of the world, officials here declare.

The United States government is now taking steps to acquire that reserve. Raw materials may be pooled after the war, as now, to insure against another outbreak of Hohenzollernism, if the great war fails to drive that blood monarch from the throne.

An international priorities board will determine what nations shall receive first benefits of these raw materials. It will take care that the weak and helpless country first is allowed to revive its strength, that it may not be suddenly overwhelmed while convalescent, by a nation whose military strength has survived the war and whose greed for expansion has not been tempered.

The foundation for this board could be the international organization already developing to direct distribution of pooled allied war supplies for fighting forces. The outcome of the war will determine whether Germany is a party to the board.

There is a movement afoot to establish an international reserve board to maintain financial stability through the period of reaction that inevitably will follow the war. This organization would operate to maintain a balance of gold among nations after the war, even as the federal reserve board now maintains a balance of credit and currency in the United States.

Through these 2 great international instrumentalities as much as through an armed league of nations, trade treaties could be maintained openly, secret pacts could not well survive, and no nation could hoard war supplies and build up a predominating militarism without full knowledge and restraint of its sister nations. Many authorities believe peace would be rendered absolutely lasting through maintenance of this machinery.
